

Richard K. Hoesterey ELECTED TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR MICROPAC INDUSTRIES, INC.

GARLAND, TX (Oct. 14, 2010) – Micropac Industries, Inc., (MPAD), a leading company in high reliability electronics, announced that Richard K. Hoesterey has been elected to the Micropac Board of Directors.

Mr. Hoesterey is an experienced C-level executive with over 35 years in general management and manufacturing operations management in a variety of industries including high tech electronics, industrial products, and power regulation. He retired in 2009 after 10 years as CEO & President of Components Corporation of America. Mr. Hoesterey founded R.K. Hoesterey & Associates to continue applying his expertise enhancing business performance and mentoring senior executives of client companies. Additionally his management experience includes roles as officer and board member of private and public companies and is a member of the National Association of Corporate Directors (NACD). Mr. Hoesterey earned a B.B.A. in Industrial Management and also achieved lifetime certification (CPIM) from the American Production & Inventory Control Society.

Mr. Mark King, Chairman and CEO of Micropac stated: “We are very excited and privileged to have Mr. Hoesterey join our board. His experience and business knowledge will serve Micropac well.”